Company activity:	Born in 1979 from an idea of Amedeo Lugli, the company is the first one in the area around Biella to buy CNC machines, a choice that, over the years, will affect the future. It is in the early eighties that, incorporated into different fields, it was decided to produce some special machine tools which were not successful owing to crisis in that sector. The road was then abandoned to give space to precision machining and assembling of groups and particulars. (website: www.meccanicalugli.com)
